

Click to verify

Regency christian academy

Regency Christian Academy is a privately accredited school in Orlando, Florida, serving students from PreK to 12th grade. Established in 1981 as Noah's Ark Child Care, it has evolved under the guidance of South Orlando Baptist Church into a comprehensive educational institution emphasizing a Christ-centered curriculum. The academy aims to foster academic excellence alongside spiritual growth, providing a nurturing environment with a student-teacher ratio of approximately 12:1 and an average class size of 18. Extracurricular activities include various clubs and sports such as basketball, dance, and soccer, promoting holistic development. Parent reviews highlight the school's commitment to both academic rigor and a supportive community. Testimonials note the quality of teachers and facilities, as well as the school's focus on teaching Christian values. The acceptance rate is 95%, significantly higher than the national average. This article provides guidance on how parents can make informed decisions about their child's education. By considering factors such as academic fit and school culture, families can choose a school that aligns with their values and goals. The College Board has developed programs like Pre-AP and the PSAT/NMSQT to support students in preparing for the SAT. Independent schools across Africa offer a range of curricula and educational experiences for expat families. From British and American styles to French and German options, these schools cater to diverse needs and preferences. Regency Christian Academy is a private school in South Orlando that provides a Christian education from PreK to 12th grade. The school's mission is to help children grow spiritually, mentally, physically, and socially, with a focus on biblical values. Regency Christian Academy admits students of all backgrounds and does not discriminate based on race, sex, or ethnicity. The school offers a strong academic foundation through a biblical worldview and aims to model character development in its students. Families can take a tour of the school and learn more about its programs and activities. With multiple ways to get involved, there is something for everyone at Regency Academy.