I've been noticing a trend in high school essays in China where the expression "themed (on)" is being used more frequently, such as: Last week witnessed the first Culture Festival themed "the Beauty of Chinese Traditional Culture" held by our school. Last Wednesday witnessed an activity themed on "Elegant Art into Campus". Is this usage idiomatic? I've searched my dictionary and couldn't find any reference to it, only a single example in BNC: We're giving you another chance to sample life at the top with Vernons Pools — an extra route to enter our five free contests themed on what it would be like to win the pools. I'm inclined to believe it's Chinglish but I'd love your help in verifying this.
