

Click to verify

This service is currently being disconnected. Select another service to continue. > This service has been transferred from Telstra. Select another service or add a new plan to continue. > This service can't be changed at the moment. Select another service or add a new plan to continue. > This service is currently on hold. Select another service or add a new plan to continue. > We can't continue with your order. Message us or visit us in store to get help with your order. > We can't continue with your order. Message us or visit us in store to get help with your order. > You're not able to make a purchase without a saved credit card payment method. The Account owner must add a credit card payment method to continue with this order. > We can't transfer your services right now. Message us or visit us in store for help. > We're unable to process the order. You already have an order in progress. Please wait until the order is complete before purchasing items on a repayment term. You can also restart your order and purchase these items outright. Message us or visit us in store if you think this isn't right. > This service already has an associated active repayment option without device Upgrade & Protect. > This service already has an associated active repayment option without device Upgrade & Protect. > Unable to process the order. This service already has an associated active repayment option. You'll need to cancel the existing repayment contract to continue. > Unable to process the order. This service already has an associated active repayment option. You'll need to cancel the existing repayment contract to continue. > Unable to proceed An order is in progress on your account Please wait for the current order to complete. Check progress -> > Unable to proceed. You can't move your current Starlink voice service. You'll need to cancel your existing service and order a new service at your new address. Message us or call 13 22 00. Message us -> > Unable to proceed You can't move your current 5G Home Internet service. You'll need to cancel your existing service and order a new service at your new address. Message us or call 13 22 00. Message us -> > Unable to proceed You can't move your current 4G Home Internet service. You'll need to cancel your existing service and order a new service at your new address. Message us or call 13 22 00. Message us -> > Unable to proceed You can't move this service. Please message us or call 13 22 00. Message us -> > Complete review of the Urbanista Austin, the practical, stable and simple to use true-wireless headphones... at the right price The new Urbanista Austin they are the ideal true-wireless headphones for those looking for a quality product at an affordable price. In this article we tell you our impressions of these earphones, which stand out for their practicality, stability and ease of use. Let's see them together main features. Packaging and build quality | Austin Urbanist Review The Urbanista Austin package is complete and contains the charging case, earphones, manuals and charging cable. USB-C. The case has a compact and light shape (very reminiscent, even to the touch, of a pebble), with a magnetic mechanism which makes it easier to insert and remove the earphones. On the bottom side there is the charging input, which takes place in approx a couple of hours and guarantees an overall autonomy of approximately 20 hours of listening. Charging status that can be checked thanks to the small LED on the front of the case, which can flash or remain fixed. The earphones have a ergonomic shape which adapts well to the ear cups, ensuring a comfortable fit good seal even during physical activities. The weight is also excellent (only 3 grams per earphone), so much so that you forget you're wearing them. Finally, it is worth mentioning IPX4 certification which allows these Urbanista Austin to be used even in light rain or sweat conditions. Audio and features | Austin Urbanist Review The audio quality of the Urbanista Austins is amazing for their price range. The sound is balanced and clean, with a good performance of low and high frequencies. Thanks to the 13 mm dynamic drivers, they adapt well to different music genres and audio sources, such as Youtube, Spotify or Amazon Music. Obviously you can't expect the same fidelity as more expensive headphones and dedicated to audiophiles, but for daily use they are more than satisfactory (pty only about the codec support, limited to the underperforming SBC). In any case, even the microphone quality (double) is good, thus allowing you to make clear and noise-free calls. There is no active reduction of environmental noise. The headphones are then equipped with touch controls which allow you to easily manage music playback, calls and the voice assistant, all via one or more consecutive taps (however, it is not possible to change the volume). The Bluetooth 5.3 connection is exceptional, fast and stable, which has no interruptions or signal losses (the connection to the smartphone really takes place in just a few seconds). There is no type of companion app for smartphones. Data sheet Driver: 13 mm Earphone autonomy: about 5 hours Overall autonomy: approximately 20 hours Certification: IPX4 Bluetooth: version 5.3 Weight: 35 g (overall) - 3 g (per single earphone) Compatibility: iOS e Android Colors: black, green, white and purple Conclusions and price Bottom line, the Urbanista Austin are true-wireless headphones that deliver excellent value for money, with above average audio quality (in reference to the price range), decent battery life and good ease of use. They are ideal for those looking for a versatile and reliable product, without necessarily having to spend too much. You can find them on the official website or on Amazon, via the box below. Before saying goodbye, we invite you to follow the mobile section of techgameworld.com for further news and video reviews. See you soon! Points in favor Good audio quality.. Fast and stable connection Lightweight and ergonomic Fair price Points against .although not excellent No wireless charging Urbanista Austin - Everyday Earbuds with StyleBrandvault Global US Image not available forColor: To view this video download Flash Player